

Volunteer To Give Back

I must admit, what I love the most about volunteering on organic farms is learning what other people are doing, meeting new faces, sharing ideas, reflecting on lessons in life, and if you are lucky, getting some complimentary tasty treats on behalf of your labor. Please follow the following links on LateBloomAmerica where we volunteer to give back.

Not every volunteer experience comes with fruits of your labor however a worthy opportunity is found in every contribution. This link will promote organizations that we volunteer with and feedback on our experiences. Every nonprofit offers opportunities to help them grow and shine. Check out your local listings and volunteer opportunities like those found on websites, on REI volunteer opportunities, Eventbrite, VolunteerMatch and Internationally.

Some of our other favorites include:

Michigan: Perennial Park